Alpha Team

by The Herobrine Hunter and DDoJ

Summary: Somewhere in Unknown space, 5 robots live life as Bounty Hunters and discover a new threat while hunting a man named Hunter, who is wanted by an unknown source. If they are to survive, they must join them...

Alpha Team

Hey everybody! This is Daemon. I plan for this to be my first solo story so I hope you enjoy "Alpha Team"!

"Echo! Where are you!" screamed Delta, a small brown girl with short, jet black hair and a psychotic personality. "Over here" said Echo, a small pale boy, also having jet black hair who was the youngest of the group, appearing to only be 9 years old. "Let's go report back to Omega!"

1 hour later...

"Hey Omega!" cheered Delta "We got the parts to fix Beta!". "Where have you guys been!? I worried what Alpha would say if you two got hurt!" panicked Omega, a pale boy with blonde hair who was almost as tall as Echo. "Let's go back to base." ordered Omega "Alpha wants to fix Beta as soon as possible!"

Back at the base... **

As the trio entered the base, they noticed Theta, yet another small pale boy with orange hair, sitting alone shuffling a deck of cards." Back already? I was about to play a game of poker with my friend Casper here." said Theta. "Alpha's in the back room." As the three friends walked into Alpha's room, they noticed a pale boy lying on the table with one of his servo's removed. Next to the boy was Alpha, the leader of the group, with blood red eyes, pale skin and hair as dark as a shadow. "We got the parts boss!" announced Delta. "Well done Delta. You also Echo. Omega however did nothing."
"Boss!"stammered Omega "I lead the team to victory against impossible odds!" "Omega. How much of an imbecile do you think I am! You are all dismissed!" As the three left the back room and walked towards Theta, Delta quietly asked Echo "Do you think Alpha will train me to use a lightsaber? I know its far fetched but still its possible!" Echo then replied "If he's going to teach someone its probably gonna be you."

The next day...

"Alright everybody get to the Bounty room. I just got a new one." Everyone rushed towards the Bounty room. "Who do you think it is this time?" Echo asked Delta "I heard rumors about this guy who ran from these things that destroy planets and that they were chasing him. Maybe they put a bounty on him?"

In the bounty room...

"Ok I just got a new bounty from a mysterious source and I'm not gonna question it. It says that they were last spotted on, Uhhh...,Dantooine. He is also worth, 100,000 credits! Ok everybody let's go to Dantooine!

Ok that's it for Chapter 1. I hope you enjoyed the first part of Alpha Team and go check out my very first story War for Necrosis, which is always improved by my friend Herobrine Hunter.
